how seaside towns were meant to be

It's no mean feat listing all the things there are to do in Wales' largest seaside resort. Just where do we begin? Fancy stretching your legs on the longest pier in Wales? A ride on Britain's only cable hauled tramway? How about a picnic on a Blue Flag beach? You can check out the views from Britain's longest passenger cable car. Or head for the slopes and try sno-tubing.

Just make sure you leave time for mooching 'round the shops, exploring the Bronze Age copper mine and a night at the theatre. No wonder Llandudno is still one of the most visited seaside towns in Britain.

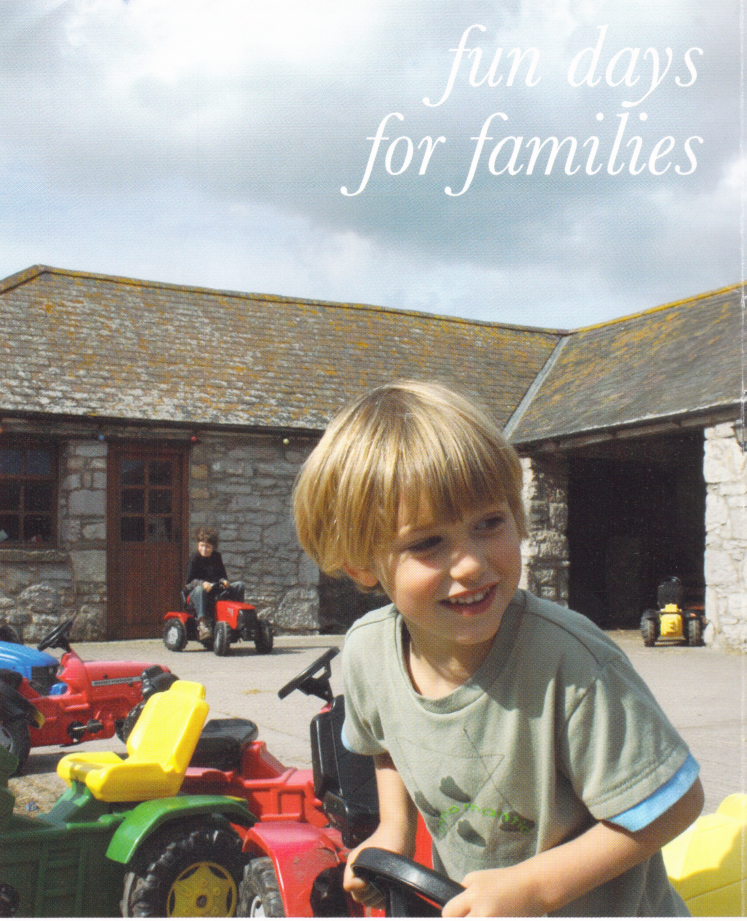
don't forget!

While you're here, visit Llandudno's Tourist Information Centre on Mostyn Street. The friendly staff can help you with things like booking tickets and planning itineraries. And, if you haven't already found somewhere to stay, they can help you choose from our great range of accommodation, too. Just remember, the longer you stay, the more time you'll have to enjoy Llandudno!

fun days for families



Bodafon Farm, Llandudno

call us old fashioned

Buckets and spades. Sand between your toes. Trying to decipher the words in a stick of rock. The promise of ice cream before bed. What's not to love about Llandudno?

North Shore and West Shore beaches are both award-winners, so they're clean and safe for children. And perfect for paddling and sand castles.

Our range of attractions is a big hit with families, too. Take a boat trip around the Great Orme, see the sights from an open top bus, get to know the animals at Bodafon Farm, or unleash your artistic flair at the new pottery painting studio.

North Shore, Llandudno

Codman's Punch and Judy

Llandudno Land Train

North Shore and Promenade

There's never a dull moment at the North Shore! All the best old-fashioned ways to enjoy our beautiful coast are here. Punch and Judy shows, donkey rides on the sand, ice cream on the pier, live music from the bandstand. Not forgetting falling asleep in your deckchair! Plus, a play area, paddling pool and snacks at the Prom's east end.

Llandudno Town Band

Map Ref:D7

Live music from the bandstand every Sunday from 24 May at 7.30pm, plus every Monday from 20 July, plus every Thursday from 6 August until the 30 August (weather permitting). You can also hear the band in a great show at Llandudno Town Hall every Monday from 1 June to 13 July. Doors open at 7.30pm.

Boat Trips Map Ref:C6

The Jetty, North Shore, Llandudno
Roger Ellis 07961 561589

There are frequent trips around the Great Orme headland. They last about half an hour, which gives you plenty of time to take in the fabulous views out to sea, the Great Orme's beautiful cliffs and the colonies of sea birds living there. And, if you're lucky, the odd bottle-nosed dolphin, too. Also available, one hour trips around the Little and the Great Orme. Daily sightseeing trips from 31 March until 31 October. Special trips, fishing trips and private charter can also be arranged outside this period.

Speedboat trips Map Ref:C6

The Codman family have been performing this firm seaside favourite since Victorian times, and they're still going strong today. With daily performances at North Shore Promenade from Easter to mid-September, daily at 2pm and 4pm (12pm also during peak weeks and bank holidays). Weather permitting.

West Shore

Llandudno's quieter shore has a play area and pond. Perfect for model boats. Even better for seeing the beautiful swans that flock to bathe here. The big sandy beach is an award-winner, too. Look out across the mouth of the Conwy Estuary to see some of the best views around, and (if your timing's good) the most spectacular sunsets.

Victoria Shopping Centre

shop around

People come from all over the place to shop at Parc Llandudno. With big names like Debenhams, Monsoon and Laura Ashley to tempt them it's hardly surprising. Venture onto Mostyn Street and you'll find even more familiar faces – Marks and Spencer, HMV – and plenty of unfamiliar independent shops where those in the know go. Gorgeous ceramics and soft furnishings at Listers on Upper Mostyn Street; beautiful clothing at Morgan and jewellery at Bijou on Lower Mostyn Street; and children's clothes you'll wish they made in adult sizes at Urchin, St George's Place.

The Victoria Centre is perfect for an undercover shopping experience and a favourite spot for classic afternoon teas.

These are just a few of the shops Llandudno has to offer, go to www.visitllandudno.org.uk to see more.
